the most exquisite Memor.
ever written is that of o
Mason, of Kansas. It is en
ttle Green Tents," and Ger-
.. Cook, President of the Depart-
..e.. of Florida, has commenced her
Memorial Day orders with it:

The little green tents where the soldiers
sleep,
And the sunbeams play and the women weep,
Are covered with flowers today,
And between the tents walk the weary few
Who were young and stalwart in sixty-two
When they went to the war away.

The little green tents are built of sod;
They are not long; they are not broad,
But the soldiers have lots of room;
And the sod is part of the land they saved,
When the flag of the enemy darkly waved
The symbol of dole and doom.

The little green tent is a thing divine;
The little green tent is a country's shrine,
Where patriots kneel and pray;
And the brave men left, so old, so few,
Were young and stalwart in sixty-two
When they went to the war away.

A TRIBUTE.

(By Millie E. Graves, La Grange, Ill., Daughter of a Veteran.)

Thinner and thinner the blue ranks grow,
Slowly, more slowly, the veterans go
Forth to the field where their comrades lie
Deep in the sleep that no reville call
Can to the Battle of Life recall.

Feeble and weary they march along,
Strong in their loyalty to brothers gone,
Scattering the flowers for memory dear,
Planting the Flag, for whose stripes and stars
Bravely they courted their fatal scars.

Flowers and Flags for the men who as well
Fought the good fight and yet live to tell
Tales of the bitter, bloody days;
Honor and homage to them while we may,
'Ere to the Silent Camp they wend their way.

Thinner and thinner the blue ranks grow,
Slowly, more slowly, the veterans go
Forth to the field where their comrades lie—
Till one by one, as the taps repeat
Shadowy ranks are made complete.

Bravely, without fear.

WHEN THE BOYS IN BLUE ARE GONE.

(To the tune "When the Mists Have Cleared Away.")

When the comrades have departed, when the veterans are no more;
When the bugle call is sounded on that everlasting shore;
When life's weary march is ended, when the camp fires slumber long,
Who will tell the world the story when the Boys in Blue are gone?

Who will tell about the marching from Atlanta to the sea?
Who will halt, and wait, and listen when they hear the reveille?
Who will join to swell the chorus of some old Grand Army song?
Who will tell the world the story when the Boys in Blue are gone?

Sons and daughters of this Nation, you must tell of triumphs won
When on earth our work is ended and the veteran claims his own;
You must cherish dear "Old Glory" and its teachings pass along;
You must tell the world the story when the Boys in Blue are gone?

To that Flag ("Our Country's Emblem) you must pledge allegiance new;
To that Flag, our Country's Emblem, you hearts be ever true,
That the Nation be protected against injustice and all wrong,
You must tell the world the story when the Boys in Blue are gone.

You must keep your country's honor and each stripe without a stain;
You must take the veterans' places and repeat the roll of fame;
You must keep your country's honor and our Flag above all wrong;
We will trust you with the story when the Boys in Blue are gone.
